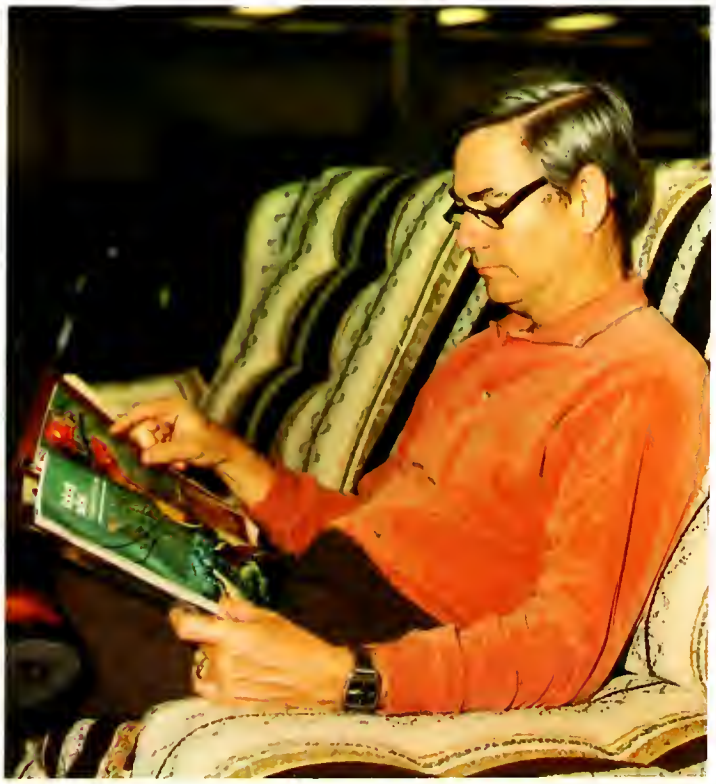
Resourcefulness



The academic year 1981-82 presented us at North Georgia Tech with a great opportunity to pursue our diverse career goals. The wealth of sensitive, dedicated, talented administrative, instructional and supportive service personnel here have pooled their efforts to bring forth our best efforts. As students and friends we have influenced one another in many ways. We have made many new friends. We have come to respect our instructors for helping instill in us as sense of professionalism which will enable us to successfully face many situations as we enter the work world. The people at North Georgia Tech have been good to us. Let's reflect upon the opportunity given us.

ADMINISTRATION & SUPPORT PERSONNEL

Through to the days of [illegible] lives, there moves in our midst a man who is [illegible]eaningfully concerned with time. His years are a [illegible]eposit of time, invested to good purpose. And t[illegible]gh it may be said that "Time flies," or "Time i[illegible]rt," or any other of a number of platitudes, [illegible] man has conquered time because he has used his years wisely and well. He has used his time to help those whose lives he had touched; to do kind and thoughtful deeds; to encourage and inspire; to share and assist with a gentle word and a genial smile.

He has always and above all had time to perceive the value of a friend.

Seconds, minutes, hours, days, and years have all been used in a selfless concern for others.

In the words of Ecclesiastes, The Preacher: "There is a time to every purpose under Heaven."

And this is the time we take to honor one whose mastery of time inspires the lives of all of us.

To Julian Lindsey . . . we respectfully dedicate this 1982 edition of THE TRADEWINDER.

Christmas

The Christmas dance was the first offical dance of fall quarter. The band, Brothers Fleet, provided a wide variety of Rock-n-Roll music. The students who attended danced to the music and enjoyed themselves. Our thanks to the Student Advisory Council and staff who worked to make this event possible.

G.O.A.L. . . . Georgia Occupational Award of Leadership. Each year this award is presented to outstanding students in Georgia's technical schools. Being the only program of it's kind in the United States, it has gained national recognition in recent years. North Georgia Tech's winner this year was . . .

In an educational environment such as ours, you have had many opportunities to expand your knowledge and experiences. As you reflect upon the people and events at North Georgia Tech this past year, you will be reminded of the warm spirit, the dedication to purpose, and the sincere concern, one for another. You will remember that here you can pursue an ambition without concern that the world will fail you, because this spirit will always be with you. Whether you are rich or poor, you find no obstacles because you are part of the family that cares about you. You will find that our philosophy of "Learning by Doing" allows you to stand on your own and make your way just as far as you are determined to go. These things, and many more, are the true spirit and character of all who become a part of the rich heritage of North Georgia Tech.

It is my sincere hope that these days spent with us will pave the way for a bright future for you, and your successes along the way will serve as a reminder of the valuable experiences provided by this institution.

Student Advisory Council

The Student Advisory Council was organized to provide a medium of communication between the student body and the administration. Through this council students could voice their suggestions and constructive criticisms. As a result of its action, improvements in the food service have been noticed. Keep up the good work.

1981-1982, a very productive school year, has gone by as many of us have departed with the fundamental skills and knowledge necessary to become productive members of society. A tremendous amount of effort by those staff members here today and those from days gone by has made North Georgia Tech what it is today: a place to acquire skills in an occupational area, as well as to learn to get along with others. I hope that those of you that have departed can look through this issue of the Tradewinder and reflect upon the many opportunities presented here. Those of you who stay on, use them to the maximum of your ability.

Best wishes in the years to come from a grateful admirer of everyone concerned with North Georgia Tech.

Gustavo Gracia, 1982 Tradewinder Editor
